1 flip to the next page, she's referring to that
2 bar chart that we talked about a little bit
3 earlier?

4 A. Correct.

5 Q. And again, I'm not going to ask
6 lots of specific questions, but would you agree 7 with me that the carfentanil deaths were 8 largely in one time -- kind of point in time in 9 2016 where you saw very significant deaths
10 associated to carfentanil?

11 A. No.

12 Q. What -- did it occur after 2016?

13 A. I will agree with you that it 14 started in the 4th of July weekend of 2016 and 15 just ballooned for the rest of 2016. It didn't 16 get any better. It got worse. And then 2017
17 was just as bad.

18 Q. Okay.

19 A. So that year and a half was 20 carfentanil. It was, you know, basically the 21 carfentanil epidemic.

22 Now, prior to that, when I first
23 started the coroner's office, as I mentioned
24 before, I would see trends. You know,
25 initially in the early 2000s, hydrocodone,

1 oxycodone, and that lasted for years. I mean,
2 you see peaks and valleys and spikes.

3 But typically what all I saw the 4 first 10 years at the coroner's office were 5 prescription meds. Very low levels of illicit 6 drugs in terms of lethal nature. Most of our 7 deaths -- and I don't have the statistics.
8 This is just the perception I had.

9 Q. Uh-huh.

10 A. The first 10 years I'm there.

11 Then, the last 10 years, I saw some 12 fluctuations. You know, the prescription -- as 13 I mentioned, we had pain management centers
14 back then, quite a few of them. As a matter of 15 fact, my last few years at City Hospital I
16 created a special drug test aimed at pain
17 management centers where I incorporated the 18 things that they wanted to see, which is the 19 opiates: oxycodone, hydrocodone, Fentanyl,
20 methadone, et cetera. And we called it the 21 pain management panel.

22 We originally created it for 23 St. Thomas Hospital. And after several weeks,
24 we were getting calls from Cleveland Clinic,
25 Aultman Hospital. Cleveland Clinic would have
